Question of the Week**

Key Passage: “Jesus said, ‘I am the good shepherd. The good shepherd lays down his life for the sheep.’”
John 10:11

Adult: Whom are you shepherding in your life right now, and who shepherds you?

Children: Who has been like a shepherd to you by their example? For whom could you be a shepherd?

PRAYERS ARE REQUESTED for the repose of the soul of Dr. Vincente Sy. Christ the King Parish. community offers its sincere condolences to his family.

Pro-Abortion?

When people believe in something, you do not see them desperately trying to avoid being linked to the activity with which their movement is identified.

For example, those who support the death penalty do not mind being called pro-death penalty. People who work for animal rights, do not mind being called pro-animal rights. People who support the Second Amendment do not mind being called pro-gun, and the list goes on and on.

The one exception is people who support legal abortion. Although they vigorously defend abortion’s legality, they do everything possible to avoid being called pro-abortion. Clearly, they are advocating the legality of an activity which is not only repugnant, but which even they know is indefensible. It that were not the case, they would not become so outraged at being called pro-abortion.

Maine Catholic Women’s Conference, Portland

The Conference’s keynote speaker will be Sister Miriam James Heidland who has traveled the world inviting others to deepen their relationship with God.

Another speaker, Colleen Stratton, is a victim-survivor of human trafficking and a member of Eye Heart World, a non-profit dedicated to combatting human trafficking and providing aftercare resources for trafficking victims.

Attendees will also enjoy the music of “His Own,” a group formed by three women who wanted to combine their love for Jesus with their passion for music.

The conference includes a Mass, adoration, a variety of vendors, a continental breakfast, and lunch. Cost is $60 including meals.
